DECISION WAS RESERVED.

Fred Miller Given a Hearing on the Benning Bookmaking Offense.

There were quite a number of sporting men in Judge Miller's court yesterday to hear the test case against Fred T. Miller, charged with setting up a gaming table and allowing roughts thereon at Benning's dur-ing a horse race there last Saturday. The speci Scations allege bookmaking as the par-ticular offense. Mr. Miller was represented by Lawyer Harry Davis, while Mr. Mullowy appeared for the government, ney appeared for the government.

Mr. Davis recited the provisions of the law of January 31, 1883, and that of March 2. 1881. These laws he held were manifestly at cross purposes. The law of 1883, he said, provides that no gaming table shall be set up anywhere in the District of Columbia, and declares that the District of Columbia, and declares that the punishment for such offense shall not be more than five years imprison-ment in the punitentiary. The law of 1891, on the other hand, makes it unlawful to bet, gamble, or make pools on the cases about gamble, or make pools on the races, elections, etc., within one mile of the cities of Washington or Georgetown, and reads as follows: "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of Amer-ica in Congress assembled. That it shall be unlawful for any person or association of per-sons in the cities of Washington and George-town, in the District of Columbia, or within said District within one mile of the bounds ries of said cities to bet gamble, or make books or pools on the result of any trotting runs or running race of horses, or bont race, or race of any kind, or on any election or any contest of any kind, or game of baseball. "See. 2. That any person or association of persons violating the provisions of this act shall be fixed not exceeding $500, or be imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

"Approved March 2, 181."

Attorney Davis argued that this law re-Attorney Davis argued that this law re-peated the one of 1883, and the defendant could not be held because the lienning's course was beyond the one-mile limit. Also that while the 1883 law provided a pententiary sentence the law of 1891 made the punish-ment imprisonment in the common [ail, if both laws were in force, as contended by Prosecutor Millowney, the effect was an un-heard of retaing of penalties.

Mr. Mullowney called the court's attention to Judge Cole's decision last winter in the case of the Try City bookmakers, in which he held that the law of 1883 was not repealed by the act of 1821. The prosecuting attorney cantended, therefore, that Mr. Miller vio-iated the first law, as he claimed that pool-selling was setting up a gaming table within the meaning of the act. Judge Miller continued the bearing until Saturday, in order that he might more fully examine Judge Cole's decision and other au-
